FOREWORD

I have been engaged in the Oriental Rug business in the United States for the past thirty years.

Though housed permanently in one of the most spacious showrooms in the city of New York, I have made a practice of holding occasional Public Sales at the Plaza Art Galleries.

The purpose of these sales is not so much the making of profit, as to express a temperamental yearning for a wider recognition of efforts and achievements in this field than is possible to secure in the necessarily narrower circle of a single business stand, however well located.

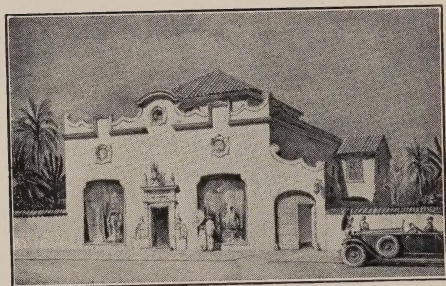

In offering these exquisite examples of artistic floor coverings to the public, I have had in mind particularly the taste and the requirements of architects, decorators, art dealers and those in allied lines, whose dream of possessing a fine rug, I hope will come true through this sale.

The rugs offered here are not of the commercial type. They reflect the age old qualities of color, design and charm for which Oriental Rugs have been famous for centuries, and through which they have found their way into Museums, Cathedrals and the homes of lovers of beautiful things.
